

COVID-19: Questions Every Parent Should Ask

Here are a few questions parents can ask teachers and school administrators to address and ease COVID-19 concerns.

- What steps are you taking to ensure that students are following preventive measures to reduce the spread of COVID-19?
- How will you notify parents of known or suspected COVID-19 exposure and cases?
- How do you plan to combat the stigma against other children who may have been sick or had family members infected with COVID-19?
- What type of mental health support will you offer students who may be afraid of being infected with COVID-19 while at school?
- What plans do you have to provide services for special needs children who are unable to wear a mask or properly sanitize their hands?
- What are the plans for safely resuming sports, physical activity or recess?

Source:

CDC.gov. Back to School Planning for In-Person Classes

f t @ v
HCPHTX.ORG

OCEE 10/07/2020

